The Honorable Roxanne Bailin
District Court Judge

Dear Judge Bailin:

The People, through District Attorney Mary T. Lacy, hereby request that this Court order the warrant and supporting affidavit, and all other associated documents submitted to this Court in connection with this arrest warrant, including this letter, be sealed for 90 days or until further order of this Court, except for use in any extradition proceedings to bring the suspect to this jurisdiction. The People request that the Court order its staff and that of the Court Clerk to deny access to any and all of these documents for the pendency of the investigation or until the matter can be reviewed after charges are filed, pursuant to §24-72-305(5), C.R.S. and §24-72-204(2)(a)(I), C.R.S. The reasons for this request are stated below.

1. There is an ongoing murder investigation initiated by the Boulder Police Department and now pursued by the District Attorney for the Twentieth Judicial District into the homicide of JONBENET RAMSEY. The date of this homicide was between December 25, 1996 and December 26, 1996. No arrest has yet been made. The public and the press throughout this country and throughout the world have shown substantial interest in this investigation.

2. The District Attorney has submitted herewith an affidavit in support of an arrest warrant in this investigation. This was done as part of a lengthy and complicated cooperative effort of a number of law enforcement agencies in this country and abroad.

3. The suspect has not yet been taken into custody and is in a foreign country. It is highly likely he would flee and go into hiding if he were to learn that the authorities know his identity, whereabouts, and other information in these documents.

4. The affidavit, warrant, and other documents submitted to this Court in connection with the various search warrants issued to date contain specific information from the investigatory records of various law enforcement agencies, including the Boulder Police Department, the Boulder County District Attorney, and the Boulder County Coroner, about the homicide of JonBenet Ramsey. Some of that information has not been disclosed to anyone outside law enforcement.

5. The investigation to date has resulted in the identification of the suspect and his location, but substantial further investigation will be necessary.

6. Premature disclosure of these documents at this sensitive point in this new stage of this lengthy investigation would be likely to be detrimental to the effort to execute this warrant, apprehend the suspect, and to return the suspect to this jurisdiction. Likewise, premature disclosure of the information contained in these documents during the pendency of the investigation that will follow taking this suspect into custody could compromise those ongoing efforts, including impacting witness statements to law enforcement and otherwise jeopardize the ability of law enforcement authorities to collect, interpret, and evaluate information and could impede further investigation and conviction of the killer.

7. Disclosure of the information within these records would be contrary to, and would do substantial injury to, the public interest involved in this ongoing investigation.

8. Pursuant to 24-72-305(5), C.R.S. (with regard to criminal justice records), the custodian of criminal justice records may allow inspection of such records except "on the ground that disclosure would be contrary to the public interest, and unless otherwise provided by law, the custodian may deny access to the records of investigations conducted by or of intelligence information or security procedures of any sheriff, district attorney, or police department or any criminal justice investigatory files compiled for any other law enforcement purpose."

9. The District Attorney, as custodian of the records of her office, has determined that disclosure of their records of this investigation, including disclosure of those portions of those records contained in the affidavit, warrant, and other documents submitted to this Court in connection with the various search warrants issued to date, would be contrary to the public interest and have determined to deny access to their records for the pendency of this investigation.

10. It is in the public interest that access to the records and files compiled by the law enforcement agencies involved in this investigation be denied during the pendency of the investigation, including those records and files which have been provided this Court in connection with the warrants which have been requested and approved.

Wherefore, the People respectfully request the Court seal the warrant, affidavit, and other documents submitted to this Court in connection with the arrest warrant issued today, including this request, except for use in any extradition proceedings to return the suspect to this jurisdiction, and that the Court order its staff and that of the Court Clerk to deny access to any and all of these documents for the pendency of the investigation or until the matter can be reviewed after charges are filed.

Respectfully,

Peter Maguire

Assistant District Attorney

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DONE this 15th day of August, 2006

STATE OF COLORADO
COUNTY OF BOULDER COUNTY

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
BOULDER COUNTY, COLORADO

AFFIDAVIT FOR ARREST WARRANT

Your, affiant, Thomas A. Bennett, a duly sworn commissioned investigator for the Boulder County District Attorney's Office, County of Boulder, State of Colorado, deposes and says:

Your affiant, Chief Investigator Thomas A. Bennett of the Boulder County District Attorney's office has been so employed for a total of two (2) years. Prior to employment through the Boulder County District Attorney's Office, your affiant was employed through the City of Arvada Police Department for 28 years. During employment through the Arvada Police Department, your affiant was assigned to the Criminal Investigations Bureau (CIB) for 20 years. Your affiant was assigned to the Crimes Against Persons Unit of the CIB for 15 years and routinely investigated death investigations, including homicides, suicides, accidental deaths and natural deaths. Additionally, your affiant was assigned the investigation of Aggravated Robberies, Sexual Assaults and Felony Assaults. Your affiant has received specialized training regarding death investigation, which was sponsored through the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and other governmental agencies. Your affiant has received other specialized training pertaining to Crime Scene Investigation, Fingerprint Classification, Interview and Interrogation in addition to numerous other schools. Your affiant is a member of the Colorado Homicide Investigators Association and the Colorado Association of Robbery Investigators. Your affiant is a member of the Rocky Mountain Division of the International Association for Identification, which is an association composed of forensic specialists and other investigators who routinely provide assistance to law enforcement agencies in identifying perpetrators of crimes, as well as identifying deceased victims to which no visible means of identification are available. Your affiant is certified through the Colorado Peace Officers Standards and Training as an instructor in criminal investigations.

Your affiant requests an Arrest Warrant be issued based on the following:

On 12/26/96, at 5:57 AM, a 911 telephone call was received at the Boulder Police Department, address 1805 33rd Street, Boulder, Boulder County, Colorado. The caller identified herself as Patricia Ann Ramsey, DOB/ 12-29-56. Patricia, or "Patsy" as she is known by her family and friends, reported her daughter -JonBenet Ramsey DOB/08-06-90 (age 6 at the time of the incident) had been kidnapped from the Ramsey residence located at 755 15th Street, City of Boulder, Boulder County, Colorado. Ms. Ramsey added a handwritten ransom note had been left in the house. The kidnappers demanded $118,000.00. The kidnappers indicated in the note that they would call back at 10:00 AM with further instructions.

Boulder Police Department Crime Report P96-21871 addresses the investigation.

Boulder Police Officer Rick French was the first officer to arrive at the scene and made contact with the parents of the victim, identified as John Bennett Ramsey DOB/12-07-43 and his wife Patricia Ramsey. The parents related that the previous evening, this being Christmas day 12/25/96, they along with JonBenet Ramsey age 6 and JonBenet's brother identified as Burke Hamilton Ramsey DOB/01-27-87 (age 9) had attended a Christmas party at a friends house and had returned to the Ramsey home at approximately 10:00 PM. JonBenet was asleep in the family vehicle upon arrival at the Ramsey residence. John Ramsey carried JonBenet from the family vehicle to the second floor bedroom she occupied in the home. JonBenet was last seen in her bed asleep at approximately 10:00 PM on 12/25/96. John Ramsey, his wife Patsy Ramsey and their son Burke also retired at approximately 10:30 PM. John and Patsy Ramsey retired to their upper level master bedroom. Burke retired to his own bedroom.

The Ramsey family had previously prepared for a trip to Charlevoix, Michigan the next morning (December 26, 1996) using a small private airplane.

Patsy Ramsey stated she awoke shortly after 5:30 AM the morning of 12/26/96 and was going to prepare for the trip to Charlevoix, Michigan. Patsy Ramsey checked the bedroom of JonBenet and noticed her daughter was not in her bed. Patsy descended a spiral staircase leading from the second floor to the first floor and found a 3-page handwritten note on the stairs. Ms. Ramsey briefly reviewed the note and determined that it was a note demanding ransom. Patsy Ramsey told her husband John Ramsey of the discovery of the note. Patsy and John Ramsey checked their daughter's room and discovered JonBenet was missing from her bedroom. Patsy Ramsey called 911 and reported the kidnapping to the Boulder, Colorado Police Department.

Officer Rick French arrived and conducted a preliminary examination of the Ramsey residence and was unable to locate JonBenet Ramsey in the home. Officer French requested assistance at the scene by way of his police radio.

Other Boulder Police Officers including Detective Linda Arndt responded to the scene. The scene was initially treated as a kidnapping. Telephone surveillance was initiated pending the anticipated telephone call from the kidnapers at 10:00 AM. The phone call was not received at the Ramsey home. At approximately 1:00 PM on the same date of 12-26-96, Detective Arndt asked John Ramsey and a friend of Mr. Ramsey, identified as Fleet White DOB/05-19-49 to search the home again.

John Ramsey and Fleet White entered the basement of the residence. John Ramsey found his daughter on the floor in a windowless storeroom. JonBenet Ramsey was partially covered with a blanket and had duct tape on her mouth. Ligatures were on her wrists and a garrote type device was around her throat. John Ramsey related that he removed the duct tape from his daughter's mouth and one of the ligatures from her wrists and then picked her up and brought her upstairs. A red colored ink marking was noted on the palm of her left hand. Mr. Ramsey was instructed by Detective Arndt to lay his daughter on the floor of the hallway near the front door of the residence. A short time later JonBenet's body was moved from the hallway to the living room. JonBenet Ramsey was deceased and it appeared as though she had been murdered.

On 12-27-96 Dr. John Meyers, the coroner for the Boulder Coroner's Office, conducted an autopsy. The external examination of JonBenet Ramsey revealed she was attired in white colored sweatshirt or similar apparel and white colored sweat pants with an elastic waistband. Under the sweatpants, JonBenet wore white colored underwear bearing the lettering of "WEDNESDAY" on the elastic waistband. Suspected bloodstains were evident on the underwear. A bracelet was noted on JonBenet's right wrist. Inscribed on one side of the bracelet was the name "JonBenet" on the opposite side the date of "12-25-96" was inscribed. JonBenet's blonde hair was fixed in two (2) ponytails, affixed with either a cloth hair tie and/or blue elastic bands. Detectives with the Boulder Police Department, attending the autopsy, seized numerous items of evidence, including the aforementioned items of clothing, bracelet, rope ligatures and the garrote type device containing various knots. The handwritten ransom note was placed into evidence. These evidentiary items were later submitted to the Colorado Bureau of Investigation for analysis

The cause of death of JonBenet Ramsey as determined by Dr. Meyers was asphyxia by strangulation associated with craniocerebral injuries. Also there was evidence of trauma and bleeding to the vaginal area. The manner of death was Homicide.

On 12-30-96, the bloodstains obtained from the panties of JonBenet were submitted to the Colorado Bureau of Investigation for testing. The lab results indicated that the major component of blood was attributed to JonBenet Ramsey. A secondary minor component was also found.

A large number of witness were interviewed including all Ramsey family members, close friends of the Ramsey family, business associates of Mr. Ramsey coupled with a Neighborhood Investigation. Numerous items of evidence were collected and submitted to the Colorado Bureau of Investigation Crime Laboratory for forensic analysis. However, the case remained unsolved.

Criminalist Greg LaBerge of the Denver Police Laboratory conducted tests on the bloodstains found in the panties of JonBenet. The results indicated that the minor secondary source of DNA contained a male fraction.

On 01-07-04 the minor secondary source of DNA found in the bloodspots of the panties was submitted to the Combined DNA Index System (CODIS) Database to be compared with existing and future samples submitted.

On May 10, 2006, your affiant conducted an interview with Michael Tracey, DOB/08-07-48, a Journalism Professor with the University of Colorado. Mr. Tracey produced a documentary on the death of JonBenet Ramsey entitled, "JonBenet's America", which aired in Europe during July 1998. Mr. Tracey also produced another documentary entitled "Who Killed the Pageant Queen" that was aired December 2004 in the United States. Mr. Tracey advised your affiant, that on September 10, 2002, he received an E-mail from an individual identifying himself as "December 25 1996@Yahoo.com". I later determined the E-mail was received at 4:31 PM Mountain Standard Time (MST). The E-mail was entitled "Our Sweetest JonBenet". This marked the first of a series of E-mails Mr. Tracey received from "December 25 1996" during the next four years.

Mr. Tracey has provided your affiant with either printed copies of the E-mails he has received from the unidentified author or he has provided an electronic storage device containing the E-mails received

The writer used the name of "December 25 1996@Yahoo.com" initially with his correspondence with Michael Tracey.

Appearing for the first time, on an E-mail received by Mr. Tracey on November 23, 2002, received at 2:59 PM MST, titled, "An Important Message", is the name of December1996@ziplip.com.

Appearing for the first time on an E-mail received by Mr. Tracey on September 20, 2005, at 6:00 PM MST, titled, "Never a Response" is the name of "December1996@Hushmail.com".

The individual identifying himself as "December 25 1996@Yahoo.com" advised Michael Tracey in his original E-mail sent on September 10, 2002 at 4:31 PM MST, titled, "Our Sweetest JonBenet", that he (December 25 1996@Yahoo.com) met an acquaintance of Mr. Tracey, while vacationing in Paris, France. The acquaintance of Mr. Tracey was later identified as: Michael D. Sandrock DOB/ 04-15-58.

Your Affiant conducted an interview with Michael Sandrock on May 12, 2006. Mr. Sandrock advised your affiant he recalled being in Paris, France approximately seven (7) years ago and met an individual at the "Shakespeare and Company" bookstore. Michael Sandrock advised the individual that he (Sandrock) was a reporter with the Boulder, Colorado Daily Camera Newspaper. The unidentified male immediately stated, "Boulder, that is where JonBenet Ramsey was killed."

The unknown male asked Mr. Sandrock if he was acquainted with Michael Tracey, a Journalism Professor with the University of Colorado. Sandrock stated he was familiar with Mr. Tracey and provided Michael Tracey's E-mail address to the unidentified male.

Mr. Sandrock described the unidentified male whom he conversed with at the Paris, France bookstore approximately seven (7) years ago as a Caucasian Male, mid 30's, medium height about height 5'08", slender athletic build, dark blonde collar length hair (full head of hair, no thinning) clean shaven, void of any visible scars, marks or tattoos. The male did not wear prescription lens glasses. He did not speak with an accent. The male did not exhibit a limp while walking. The male had a normal gait to his strides. According to Mr. Sandrock, the male was attired in a short sleeve shirt, possibly a polo style shirt. He wore slacks of an unknown color on one occasion and shorts of an unknown color on another occasion. Mr. Sandrock added, the male appeared "neat and clean" as opposed to many persons visiting the bookstore that were attired in hiking clothing and appeared to be "Backpacking through Europe. They can get a little grubby."

It should be noted, contained in an E-mail received by Michael Tracey from "December 1996" at an unspecified date and time and forwarded to former Inv. Lou Smit of the Boulder District Attorney's Office on May 4, 2006 at 10:54 AM MST, the male advised Mr. Tracey the aforementioned description as provided by Michael Sandrock was incorrect. "December 1996" remarks, "I am not medium height. I am small. I do not have light hair. My hair is dark and my eyes are a piercing blue." Former Inv. Smit forwarded the aforementioned E-mail to your affiant on the same date of May 4, 2006.

Initially the E-mails received by Journalism Professor Michael Tracey, from "December 1996@Yahoo.com" contained voluminous amounts of verbiage indicating the writer's infatuation with young girls. Often writing about his love of young females and his continued love of JonBenet Ramsey.

Mr. Tracey has provided your affiant with either printed copies of the E-mails he has received from the unidentified author or he has provided an electronic storage device containing the E-mails received. Your affiant has reviewed the E-mail correspondence and determined the typical E-mail message provided to your affiant is a series of communications between Mr. Tracey and "December1996". Often Michael Tracey receives a message from the writer and the message is forwarded to your affiant's attention. This original message is followed by Mr. Tracey's reply to the writer. Contained within Mr. Tracey's reply are portions of the original text of the letter writer's response

A review of the supplied E-mail messages provided by Michael Tracey coupled with an interview your affiant conducted with Mr. Tracey on May 10, 2006 at 2:00 PM, the following information was gleaned.

Within an untitled E-Mail received by Mr. Tracey on December 31, 2002 at 5:24 PM Mountain Standard Time (MST) "December 1996@ziplip.com" writes "You are a special friend to me. You cannot know how important you are to me." The aforementioned verbiage is the first sentence in this E-mail that is five pages in length.

Michael Tracey received other E-mails from "December 1996@ziplip.com" detailing the writer's travels across Europe with "his girls" referring to the numerous young children in his company.

Contained within an E-mail received by Michael Tracey on January 3, 2003 at 6:04 PM MST, and titled, "My Daughter", "December1996@ziplip.com" the writer states, "I present to you a lovely child – a little girl who is so pretty and and (sic) with the power to captivate my heart and a thousand others like mine. I present to you: my daughter...." The writer adds, "I tend to think of Dodgson and his young Loves, much like my own, and his incredible way with them, most like my way with lovely little girls – the most incredible living beings on this earth..." The writer attaches a photograph of a young girl, attired in a large dark colored hat, light colored long sleeve blouse, dark overcoat and shoes. A bracelet is noted on her left wrist. She is lying on her stomach with her feet curled up near her back. Her Light colored hair is past her shoulders. She is holding the stem of a rose in her right hand with the rose near her mouth while her face is held in the palm of her left hand. She is smiling. The photo of the child is in black and white. The photograph is titled, "My Daughter."

In a January 12, 2003 E-mail received by Michael Tracey, at 6:40 AM MST, titled, "Important", "December 1996@ziplip.com" writes, "You have asked me who I am and so I will tell you. Yes, I am a psychic and yes I speak to the dead. But more than this, I am a kind, loving, affectionate person who cares for children. Just last night, I went to the bed of a lovely little girl and comforted her as she cried. She did not feel well, she said. I stroked her hair and face and said, "Sweetheart everything will be all right. I am here to help you and take care of you. I care for you so much." I am that man who watched this little girl smile with relief as she listened to those golden words flow so fluently from my mouth into her attentive, understanding ears. I kissed her softly good night and left her room not before I made sure the light flowed into her room to her liking. That, my friend, is who you are talking to. I am a man who cherishes little girls and protects them with all that is in him."

The E-mails from "December1996@ziplip.com" continued through 2003. Typically lengthy messages were sent to Michael Tracey, often several pages in length, which Mr. Tracy responded to. On rare occasions, Michael Tracey did not respond immediately to the sender's E-mails, which prompted the sender to repeatedly remind Michael Tracey of his lack of response.

Mr. Tracey requested the sender of the E-mails, known only as December1996@ziplip.com to divulge his identity. Contained within an E-mail received by Mr. Tracey on August 26, 2003 at 2:49 AM MST, titled "An Appropriate Season", "December1996@ziplip.com writes, "After all the months we have talked and the guarding I have done, you would suggest I make an on camera appearance? And what do you expect me to say/ I am most surprised at you. I told you I would write under a pen name and collect proceeds through a European numbered account and you come back with this offer."

"December1996@ziplip.com" continued to write to Mr. Tracey during 2003 detailing his love of JonBenet Ramsey. The writer mentions his visits to 755 15th Street in Boulder, Colorado, which is the residential address of the Ramsey family when the First Degree Murder of their daughter, JonBenet Ramsey occurred. The writer also mentions his visits to the grave of JonBenet Ramsey where he prayed for her. However, the writer provides no details of these visits. The writer only mentions the fact that he visited both the residence and the gravesite.

Mr. Tracey did not receive any E-mails from "December 1996@ziplip.com" during 2004.

Commencing September 20, 2005 at 6:00 PM MST, December1996@hushmail.com begins communicating again with Michael Tracey. The E-mail is titled, "Never a Response". The writer mentions within the September 20, 2005 E-mail, "Here is my final word to you and everyone involved in this case: You are chasing in the wrong direction (as always) and leaving the most important link to JonBenet behind. You chased me away."

The aforementioned E-mail was the first E-mail received by Michael Tracey with the sender's new address of "December1996@hushmail.com".

Within an E-mail dated October 7, 2005 bearing a time of 2:48 AM MST, titled, "JonBenet's Closet", Michael Tracey writes to "December 1996@hushmail.com", "The case is creeping away from everyone else and becoming a very chilly case. By the tenth anniversary it will be in deep freeze, unsolved and apparently unsolvable."

December1996@hushmail.com answers, "It will continue to creep away until a new person rises up and speaks. I believe that person to be me though no one is listening publicly to me..."

Within the body of the same E-mail dated October 7, 2005, December1996@hushmail.com writes, "...I had spoken to the parents and the grandparents of JonBenet about this months or more prior to Lou Smit's revelation. Yes I have communicated with the Ramseys since her death. It was always to no avail. Recall the E-mail contact you granted. Nothing came of it and will not. I think it is too painful for them to communicate with me. I have always had such good rapport with parents."

The individual referred to as "Lou Smit" is former Investigator Lou Smit of the Boulder District Attorney's Office."

During the latter portion of 2005, December1996@hushmail.com continues to write of his fascination with and love for JonBenet Ramsey. The writer also mentions his love of little girls.

The communications between Michael Tracey and December1996@hushmail.com cease during January and February of 2006. Partly due to Mr. Tracey not responding to each and every E-mail that the sender had provided. Often, in past E-mail messages, December1996@hushmail.com instructed Mr. Tracey to answer specifically each question he had posed. If the answer was not provided, the writer would remind Mr. Tracey to provide the answer.

Commencing in March 2006, E-mail exchanges were initiated between Michael Tracey and December1996@hushmail.com. The following example received on March 11, 2006 at 4:47 AM, Mountain Standard Time (MST) titled, "My Last Two Letters", is illustrative of the E-mails the unknown writer has provided to Mr. Tracey. The text is copied verbatim from the E-mail received by Mr. Tracey and provided to your affiant by Mr. Tracey through an electronic storage device. The unidentified writer advises Mr. Tracey, a reply had not been received regarding E-mails he (December1996@hushmail.com) wrote to Mr. Tracey in January 2006. The text is provided unedited. Comments posted by Michael Tracey are indicated with punctuation marks of ">" or quotation marks which he himself wrote. The text is as follows:

Here are my last two letters from January that you never responded to. You really hurt me when you just drop out for months at a time.
I was really starting to open up to you about what happened to me in the United States and you just left me hanging. You know how important it is to me to talk about JonBenet to someone. If not you, who? Her parents won't talk to me anymore. Who can I turn to?
Do you know that answer?

Michael,
There was so much that you missed in my last mail. It is sad that your responses seem rushed. I share so much in my letters and would share so much more if you would not allow so many lapses in our correspondences.
>Hi, sure we are still talking. I've been working on the book. It's >agonizing and daunting.
I am a busy person as well. I am a teacher at a Catholic school for girls. I arrive home exhausted but would make time for serious dialogue with you.
"One thought you had, and which you have offered in various forms, that I really like is your reference to the ransom note being a distraction, rather in the way in which a magician works. A very interesting metaphor. Can I steal it?"
Michael, please do not even joke about stealing things from me. No you may not "steal" any words or thoughts I have shared. Lou Smit and others have done that to me and it is wrong. It prompts me to keep silent.
"Tell me more about your childhood."
I was rather holding back the traditional story that would certainly place your attention on all the psychological crap that people usually focus on. It would be as diversionary as the ransom note.

"why was it paradoxical?"

While it was wonderful, it was also traumatic at times.

"When were you orphaned?"

At four.

"Obviously I would like to know about the accusations against you."

There were several accusations that spanned several states.

"I noticed that you say, in relation to the 12 year old, that you were the suspect "of course." why? why would it be inevitable?

You are scanning my mails... Please don't do that. I never said it was inevitable. I never said, "of course".

"Or are you suggesting that you knew the child?"

I did not know this girl. I have been connected closely with a very few 12 year old girls since this age is above the age of the girls I work with. I was closely connected with one twelve year old girl in the past.

"Sorry for all the questions, I'm just trying to understand."

Questions are welcome. It is the silence that I cannot respond to.

"The other obvious question from our recent conversation is why would your attorney even have to ask you if you killed JonBenet?"

Because my connection with JonBenet along with many other evidential factors would have led anyone to believe it true. I simply knew too much and was too deeply connected.

"I'm also drawn to ask the questions because you say that in what you are telling me now you are "only scratching the surface."

It is difficult to get deep here with weeks of silence until I finally have to ask you to write back. How can I share much at all at that rate?

"One correction: I said that I never did see photos of my father, at least not for many years. why though did my comment strike a chord with you?"

Michael, please read my mails carefully. This is where I shared something so secret with you and so dear to me. You totally missed it. It was not cryptic: I made a statement and you still missed it.

"One other point, I would still like to talk with you on the phone. I have this curious need to know what your voice sounds like."

The first time I was brought in for questioning by law enforcement, they wanted to do voice analysis by recording my voice. I know they had some reason for that as it related to the investigations. What is your reason? As you never address my fears and reservations that I wrote just in my last letter, why would I give a phone number to you that would trace my exact location? Law enforcement would swarm down on me and my life would be destroyed as badly as it was before I left the U.S.

"Now it's back to the writing."

Now it's back to teaching little girls.

Stay in touch Michael. There is an unreal amount that you do not know about me. I might consider sharing it as long as you do not "steal" it.

Did you get my last letter.....??....

This was so important to me yet you never responded to this....

This was sent weeks ago.

"I visited the house, with your note. I always find being there very sad and poignant."
